Fr. Sean Kilcawley

Fr. Sean Kilcawley was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Lincoln in 2005. Before entering seminary he graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1996, and served for three years of active duty as an Infantry Officer in the United States Army. From 2009-2013 Fr. Kilcawley studied at the John Paul II Institute for Studies on Marriage and Family in Rome, earning a Licentiate in Sacred Theology (summa cum laude), and has completed training in sex addiction treatment from the SATP Institute, and the International Institute for Trauma and Addiction Professionals. He currently serves the Diocese of Lincoln as the Director of the Office for Family Life and as theological advisor for Integrity Restored - a non-profit agency which provides education, training, and resources to assist the Church in bringing hope and healing to individuals, spouses, parents and clergy who have been affected by pornography. For the past three years, Fr. Kilcawley has been educating parents, running support groups for addicts and their spouses, educating clergy, and speaking at conferences on best practices and resources for addressing pornography at the parish and diocesan level. His speaking engagements have included: Mount 2000 Youth Conference (2016), The Coalition to End Sexual Exploitation (2015), The Global Set Free Summit (2016), The National Safe Environment/Child Protection Conference (2016), and The International Theology of the Body Congress (2016).
